Shand's Bridge

Charles “Corky” Bell has been serving generations of hungry North Floridians perfectly delectable crispy fried, broiled, blackened and grilled seafood.

Since opening his first restaurant at Pacetti’s Fish Camp on Trout Creek in 1979, his name has carried on a strong reputation. Corky Bell’s Seafood proudly serves Corky’s own specialty dishes from Garlic Shrimp Scampi, Creamy Seafood Alfredo, Crabmeat Stuffed Fish, Swamp Treats like Gator Tail and Froglegs and so much more. He and his wife Betty welcome you to enjoy their tasty menu, with something to satisfy every appetite.

We are committed to serving the highest quality food with excellent service and sincerely want you to enjoy your dining experience with us!

On June 8th of 2006, Corky, his wife Betty, his son Charlie and daughters Amy, Mistie & Brittany excitedly opened the doors to our Fleming Island location. After spending over 17 successful years at Pacetti’s, Corky always dreamed of opening another restaurant in the vicinity of the original. Corky Bell’s Seafood in Fleming Island gave him that chance, just a short trip over the Shands Bridge will take you right back to the beginning. As of 2016, Corky has proudly owned and operated a total of 17 restaurants. He attributes a lot of his success to his family, who have played a role in most of his restaurants, including his brother, Ricky Bell, his children, and now his granddaughter Jacey. Although Corky is involved in both of his locations, he and Betty enjoy spending time with their youngest grandchildren, Brantley & Emma.

We invite you to visit us at our East Palatka location at 185 Highway 17 South, East Palatka, FL 32131. You can also check us out on our website at www.corkybellseafood.com
